"I was so bad with backache I couldn't do any work, such as washing or any heavy lifting. Doan's Kidney Pills quickly removed the trouble. BUTTER AND CHEESE IN MARKED GAIN

Increase of the Former in United States Was 25.3 Per Cent. in Quantity, While in the Latter It Was 21.3 Per Cent.

A summary of the general results of the 1914 census of manufactures for the butter, cheese, and condensed milk industry has been issued by Director Sam. L. Rogers of the bureau of the census department of commerce. It consists of a statement showing, for the United States as a whole, for 1909 and 1914, the quantities of the principal materials used and the value and quantities of the various products manufactured in factories, prepared under the direction of William M. Stewart, chief statistician for manufactures. The figures are preliminary and are subject to such change and correction as may become necessary upon further examination of the original reports.

Establishments Reported and Value of Products.

Returns were received from 7,982 establishments engaged in the industry in 1914, the products of which were valued at $570,818,729. At the census of 1909, there were reported 8,500 establishments, with products valued at $275,277,090. While there was thus a decrease of 818 in the number of establishments, the total value of products increased by 34.7 per cent.

Butter and Cheese.

The production of butter in 1914 amounted to 786,013,480 pounds, valued at $223,179,254, as compared with 627,145,865 pounds, valued at $180,174,790, in 1909, representing an increase of 25.3 per cent. in quantity and 23.9 per cent. in value. The production of cheese in 1914 amounted to 377,502,109 pounds, valued at $50,031,925, and in 1909 to 311,175,730 pounds, valued at $42,245,669, the increase being 21.3 per cent. in quantity and 17.8 per cent. in value.

The farma production of butter (including that made for home consumption) is probably greater than the factory output, and a relatively small quantity of cheese is also manufactured on farms. Statistics in regard to the farm output of these commodities, however, are collected only once in ten years.

At the census of 1909, 944,650,610 pounds of butter and 9,405,844 pounds of cheese were reported as made on farms. These amounts represented decreases of 7.2 per cent. and 42.6 per cent., respectively, as compared with 1899.

Condensed and Evaporated Milk.

The production of condensed and evaporated milk increased from 485,197,844 pounds, valued at $33,587,207, in 1909, to 584,046,761 pounds, valued at $59,374,948, in 1914, the percentages of increase in quantity and value being 78.6 and 76.8, respectively. The manufacture of powdered milk, which was not reported separately at the census of 1909, amounted in 1914 to 1,957,911 pounds, valued at $2,081,607. The production of sugar of milk, also first reported separately for 1914, amounted in that year to 4,031,320 pounds, valued at $400,613.

Of the 7,982 establishments reporting for 1914, 342 were engaged primarily in the buying and selling of milk, cream and other dairy products, or in the manufacture of ice, confectionery, ice cream, etc., and produced butter and cheese as subsidiary products. For 1909 there were reported 21 establishments of this character.

Milk Consumed.

While the quantity of milk consumed by factories in the manufacture of dairy products decreased from 9,888,727,303 pounds in 1909 to 8,431,632,860 pounds in 1914, or by 14.7 per cent., the quantity of cream purchased as such for use in the industry increased from 1,496,143,908 pounds in 1909 to 2,383,828,263 pounds in 1914, or by 60.3 per cent.
